

CONTENTS

Preface	xi
Notes on Transliteration, Translation, and Dates	xiii
Acknowledgments	xv
Introduction	1
1 Christianity in Egypt	9
Early Christianity in Egypt	9
The Catechetical School of Alexandria	11
Monastic Egypt	15
Diocletian and the Persecution of Christians	18
Athanasius and the Separation of the Coptic Church	22
2 The Coming of Islam	33
Egypt before the Arab Invasion	33
The Arabs Arrive in Egypt	36
Was Egypt Acquired by a Treaty or by Force?	41
How the Arabs Saw Egypt for the First Time	41
The Library of Alexandria	42
Conditions Imposed on Non-Muslims	43
Early Administration under ‘Amr ibn al-‘As	44
3 Early Arab Dynasties: The Umayyads and the Abbasids	49
The Umayyad Dynasty (AD 661–750)	52
The Abbasid Dynasty (AD 750–1517)	57

4 The Era of the Independent Muslim Dynasties	63
The Tulunid Dynasty (AD 884–96)	63
The Ikhshidi Dynasty (AD 935–69)	66
The Fatimid Dynasty (AD 909–1171)	67
The Ayyubid Dynasty (AD 1171–1250)	78
5 The Mamluk Era (AD 1250–1517)	83
6 The Islamization of Egypt	93
Threats to Islam from Mongols and Europeans	94
Changing Demography in the South of Egypt	96
Rich Coptic Administrators and Tax Collectors	98
Marriage and Conversion	98
The Shift from Coptic to Arabic Language	99
7 Egypt under the Ottomans (1517–1798)	103
Turkish Rule	103
Coptic–Muslim Relations	105
The Decline of the Ottoman Dynasty	109
8 The French Adventure in Egypt (1798–1801)	111
Under Napoleonic Rule	113
Mu'allim Ya'qub: Visionary or Traitor?	117
The End of the French Adventure in Egypt and Its Effects	119
9 Muhammad 'Ali Dynasty (1805–1952)	123
The Founder of Modern Egypt	124
The Dynasty after the Death of Muhammad 'Ali	127
The Coptic Church and Colonialism	132
10 The Urabi Revolt (1879–82)	135
11 Egypt under the British (1881–1954)	141
The British, the Muslims, and the Copts	142

12 From Revolt to Revolution (1919–52)	151
The Wafd Party (1923–52)	156
Political Islam	160
The Copts and Political Islam	164
Coptic–Muslim Relations among Intellectuals	166
The Problem of Building Churches in Twentieth-Century Egypt	169
13 The 1952 Revolt and the Nasser Era (1954–70)	173
The Coptic Church in Transition	178
14 The Sadat Era (1970–81)	183
Financing and Political Islam	184
The Rise of Political Islam under Sadat	186
Sadat’s Difficult Years	189
15 The Mubarak Era (1981–2011)	201
The Return of Pope Shenouda	205
A Changing Political, Social, and Economic Climate	207
16 The January 25 Revolution and Its Aftermath	217
Epilogue	229
Appendix 1 Six Outstanding Individuals of the Egyptian Enlightenment Period	231
Taha Hussein (1889–1973)	231
Salama Musa (1887–1958)	234
Muhammad Talaat Harb (1867–1941)	239
Rose al-Yusuf (1888–1958)	242
Makram Ebeid (1889–1961)	243
Jurji Zaydan (1861–1914)	247
Appendix 2 Summary of Parliamentary Elections	251
Notes	253
Bibliography	279
Index	289