

Contents

List of Contributors	vii
Acknowledgments	xi
Doctoral Studies in Egypt: An Introduction	1
Daniele Cantini
1. A Brief Sketch of the Political History of Doctoral Studies in Egypt	32
Daniele Cantini
2. Doctorate Studies at the Sociology Department, Cairo University: A Case Study.	49
Nefissa Dessouqi
3. Internationalization of Higher Education: Faculty of Economics and Political Science, Cairo University	71
Ola Kubbara
4. Heritage-Related Knowledge Production: A Study into Postgraduate Dissertations at Alexandria University (1985–2016)	97
Ahmed Mansour
5. Knowledge Production on Women’s Issues in Egypt: A Reading into the Experiences of a Sample of Female Researchers	119
Nefissa Dessouki

6. Joining the ‘World-class’ University Club? History, Geopolitics, and Doctoral Education in the Arab World David Mills	141
7. Social Sciences at Cairo University before and after February 2011: Changing Perceptions of Academic Freedom Jonathan Kriener	159
8. “Scholactivism”: Feminist Translation as Knowledge Production for Social Change Hala Kamal	183
Afterword Mona Abaza	203